Safety Notices

To ensure your safety during today's ceremony, please take note of the following:

1. Smoking, lighters, and open flames are not permitted in the arena at any time.
2. Locate your nearest exit. In the unlikely event of an emergency, follow the directions of the event staff and ushers. Do not follow the police, they will be going to the scene of the emergency. You will be directed to a safe area away from the arena.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns; three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with "trailing elbows." Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material such as velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the University faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities - white
Commerce, Accountancy, Business - drab
Education - light blue
Engineering - orange
Fine Arts - brown
Journalism - crimson
Law - purple
Library Science - lemon
Medicine - green
Music - pink
Nursing - apricot
Philosophy - dark blue
Physical Education - sage green
Science - golden yellow
Social Science - cream
Theology - scarlet
Veterinary Science - gray

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduation exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

The University Mace

The practice of carrying a mace in academic processions dates to medieval times in England when a person bearing a mace, a formidable weapon, walked in front of the highest-ranking official as they entered and departed ceremonial occasions, to protect him or her from personal injury.

As adapted by European and American universities, the mace has become a symbol of office to the institution's president and is carried by a distinguished member of the faculty. At Morehead State, the joint office of faculty grand marshal and mace bearer is held by the current recipient of the Distinguished Teacher Award.

The mace of Morehead State University was fashioned from Eastern Kentucky walnut in 1984 by John S. VanHoose, a retired faculty member from the Department of Industrial Education and Technology.

Commencement Profiles

Dr. Wayne D. Andrews, a New England native who made Appalachia his adopted home, has served since Jan. 1, 2005, as the 13th president of Morehead State University.

He is a graduate of Fitchburg State College in Massachusetts where he earned a B.S. degree in 1974 and of West Virginia University where he received a master's in 1976 and a doctorate in 1977.

Dr. Andrews has nearly 40 years of higher education experience at three public, comprehensive universities: Morehead State, East Tennessee State and Illinois State. He has served in a variety of roles, including a tenured professorship in engineering technology, department chair, executive assistant to the president, vice president for student affairs, vice president for administration, vice president for administration and chief operating officer and president. His potential for leadership was recognized in 1993 with his selection as a Fellow of the American Council on Education (ACE).

He was appointed by Gov. Ernie Fletcher and then reappointed by Gov. Steve Beshear as one of Kentucky's five representatives on the Southern Regional Education Board. He has served as president of the Ohio Valley Conference.

He was named to the planning committee of the Shaping Our Appalachian Region initiative and currently serves as Kentucky's representative on the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Andrews is an Army veteran whose hobbies include restoration of antique clocks and the singing and playing of traditional music. He and his wife of 42 years, Susan, a retired elementary school reading specialist, have two adult children, Josh and Jill.

President and Mrs. Andrews reside on campus in the President's Home which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Commencement Profiles

Buckner (Buck) Hinkle Jr. of Lexington will be presented an Honorary Doctor of Public Service degree. He is a member of Stites and Harbison PLLC, where he has practiced law since 1974, primarily in the fields of construction law and business litigation.

Hinkle served two terms as a member of MSU's Board of Regents (1991-2004), including chair from 2001-04.

He earned his J.D. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1974 and his B.A. degree from Sewanee: The University of the South in 1970. He currently serves on Sewanee's Board of Trustees.

Hinkle serves on the Advisory Board of MSU's Kentucky Center for Traditional Music and the Board of Directors for the MSU Foundation Inc., Hinkle Holding Company LLC, and the Kentucky Chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America. He chairs the Kentucky AGC's Legislative Committee. The Kentucky AGC honored him with the 2011 Lifetime Achievement Award, the 2009 Distinguished Service Award and named him the 2007 Legislative Advocate of the Year.

He formerly served as chancellor of the Episcopal Diocese of Lexington and for 23 years as trustee of the Appalshop Endowment Fund.

A frequent writer and speaker, Hinkle is an active member of the American Bar, Kentucky Bar and Fayette County Bar associations.

He is a past chair of the Governing Committee of the American Bar Association Forum on the Construction Industry, the largest professional organization for construction law education nationally. He has been a fellow of the American College of Construction Lawyers since 1996.

Commencement Profiles

Faith Elizabeth Brown of Liberty Township, Ohio, is today's morning student speaker. She is the oldest of four children and the daughter of James and Barbara Brown.

She is a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish education with a minor in international studies.

Brown was homeschooled through high school while she attended Lakota East High School part-time. At Lakota East, she was a member of the National Honor Society, played junior varsity soccer, and was on the High Honor Roll.

Upon her arrival to Morehead State University, she was awarded a full academic scholarship through the George M. Luckey Jr. Academic Honors Program. During her time at MSU, Brown has retained a cumulative grade-point-average of 4.0, been named Outstanding Student of Spanish, Outstanding Undergraduate Student in Secondary Education, Outstanding Undergraduate Student in the Department of International and Interdisciplinary Studies, and has made the dean's list every semester.

Brown is an active member of MSU's Newman Center, has performed more than 200 volunteer service-hours, was president of MSU's Spanish Club, has completed three semesters of undergraduate research with the Department of International and Interdisciplinary Studies, and has presented research at the Kentucky Honors Roundtable and MSU's Celebration of Student Scholarship. In addition, she has studied and traveled in Spain and France.

After graduation, she plans to teach English in Spain for a year. Upon returning to the United States, Brown will pursue graduate studies while teaching Spanish at the high school level and eventually at the college level.

Commencement Profiles

Sofia Pettersson of Täby, Sweden, is today's afternoon student speaker. She is the daughter of Elisabet Pettersson and Lars Erik Pettersson.

Pettersson is a candidate for a bachelor's degree in sport management.

Pettersson came to Morehead in 2010 to be a part of the women's golf team under coach Stephanie Barker. She was a member of the Ohio Valley Conference championship team in 2011 and participated in the NCAA tournament. She is a three-time All-American scholar.

While attending MSU, Pettersson has maintained a 4.0 grade-point-average and has been awarded Outstanding Undergraduate Sport Management Student. She also has been selected to represent the sport management program for the School of Business Administration Student Advisory Council.

Pettersson has spent a great deal of time volunteering with MSU's athletic media relations department helping out with game-day operations and writing for MSUEagles.com for a number of sports teams.

After graduation, she is looking forward to working with event planning, media relations or marketing in the sports industry. This summer, she has landed an internship with the American Junior Golf Association where she will be a traveling communications intern.

Alma Mater
(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail.
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold - praise you.
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old M-S-U.

Safety Notices

To ensure your safety during today's ceremony, please take note of the following:

1. Smoking, lighters, and open flames are not permitted in the arena at any time.
2. Locate your nearest exit. In the unlikely event of an emergency, follow the directions of the event staff and ushers. Do not follow the police, they will be going to the scene of the emergency. You will be directed to a safe area away from the arena.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns; three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with "trailing elbows." Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material such as velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the University faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities - white
Commerce, Accountancy, Business - drab
Education - light blue
Engineering - orange
Fine Arts - brown
Journalism - crimson
Law - purple
Library Science - lemon
Medicine - green
Music - pink
Nursing - apricot
Philosophy - dark blue
Physical Education - sage green
Science - golden yellow
Social Science - cream
Theology - scarlet
Veterinary Science - gray

Ushers

Ushers serving for today's ceremonies are students currently attending Morehead State University. The ushers are wearing gold shirts.

College Receptions

Refreshments for graduates and their families, hosted by each college's dean and faculty, will be served immediately following commencement. For reception locations, please refer to the map located on the inside back cover of your program. Receptions are co-sponsored by the MSU Alumni Association Inc.

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduation exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

The University Mace

The practice of carrying a mace in academic processions dates to medieval times in England when a person bearing a mace, a formidable weapon, walked in front of the highest-ranking official as they entered and departed ceremonial occasions, to protect him or her from personal injury.

As adapted by European and American universities, the mace has become a symbol of office to the institution's president and is carried by a distinguished member of the faculty. At Morehead State, the joint office of faculty grand marshal and mace bearer is held by the current recipient of the Distinguished Teacher Award.

The mace of Morehead State University was fashioned from Eastern Kentucky walnut in 1984 by John S. VanHoose, a retired faculty member from the Department of Industrial Education and Technology.

Commencement Profiles

Dr. Wayne D. Andrews, a New England native who made Appalachia his adopted home, has served since Jan. 1, 2005, as the 13th president of Morehead State University.

He is a graduate of Fitchburg State University in Massachusetts where he earned a B.S. degree in 1974 and of West Virginia University where he received a master's in 1976 and a doctorate in 1977.

Dr. Andrews has nearly 40 years of higher education experience at three public, comprehensive universities: Morehead State, East Tennessee State and Illinois State. He has served in a variety of roles, including a tenured professorship in engineering technology, department chair, executive assistant to the president, vice president for student affairs, vice president for administration, vice president for administration and chief operating officer and president. His potential for leadership was recognized in 1993 with his selection as a Fellow of the American Council on Education (ACE).

He was appointed by Gov. Ernie Fletcher and then reappointed by Gov. Steve Beshear as one of Kentucky's five representatives on the Southern Regional Education Board. He has served as president of the Ohio Valley Conference.

He was named to the planning committee of the Shaping Our Appalachian Region initiative and currently serves as Kentucky's representative on the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

In October 2014, Dr. Andrews was named to the Southern Regional Education Board's Commission on College Affordability in the South, which will focus state policies on the goal of affordability for students.

Dr. Andrews is a U.S. Army veteran whose hobbies include restoration of antique clocks and the singing and playing of traditional music. He and his wife of 43 years, Susan, a retired elementary school reading specialist, have two adult children, Josh and Jill, and one grandchild, Nico. President and Mrs. Andrews reside on campus in the President's Home which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Commencement Profiles

Melissa Bull of Pearl City, Illinois, will be the student speaker for today's ceremony.

She is the daughter of Thomas Bull and Molly Lovgren Watson. She is the sister of Evan Bull and granddaughter of Winafred Lovgren.

Bull is a candidate for a bachelor's degree in business management and Spanish.

She enrolled at Morehead State University in the fall of 2010, where she earned a spot on MSU's All-Girl Cheerleading squad. She won two national championships (2011 and 2014) at the UCA College Cheerleading Championships. Recently, Bull and her stunt group placed first in Partner Stunt Video Entry and have accepted a bid to the 2015 National Championships. She also was a member of MSU's track team her freshman year.

Bull worked as a student tutor at the Tutoring and Learning Center where she had more than 715 tutoring appointments to help more than 275 students achieve their own academic standards. She also worked at the Holiday Inn Express in Morehead.

Bull maintained a 3.75 grade-point-average while working and participating on the cheerleading team. A member of the Beta Gamma Sigma fraternity, she spent a summer studying abroad in Segovia, Spain.

In April 2014, she was selected to represent the United States on the Team USA All-Girl Cheerleading squad, where she competed and won a world title at the International Cheer Union World Championships.

After graduation, Bull will seek another national championship in January. She will continue to reside in Orlando, Florida, as she has accepted an internship in hospitality at Walt Disney World.
